LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a business. It is not a matter of sentiment, but of fact. The advertiser who places his advertisement in this paper, does so for a purpose. He knows that the paper is the most widely circulated in the city, and that it is the most influential. He knows that the paper is the most influential. He knows that the paper is the most influential.

HERE AND THERE

1-3 OFF!

This means that we will sell, beginning today until the 15th of February, every Suit, every pair of Pants, every Overcoat (not a garment is reserved) in our house one-third less than the regular legitimate price. It is needless to tell you of the merits of our merchandise. No house in the state competes with us in style and quality.

We Handle Only the Highest Grades of Clothing.

Moreover, we never indulge in fake advertisements. You ask why this tremendous reduction in our prices. We answer, do you know that up to date we have not had a week's cold weather all this winter? We are stuck on Heavy Suits and Overcoats and for two reasons must unload. The most important is we need the money for thirty odd thousand dollars worth of clothing on hand. The other reason is in our spring purchases are beginning to come in. It will take lots of room for them. Look in our windows and you will see what one third off means.

A RHYMED POEM.
Here is a poem, that was written in 1867 by a girl under twenty years of age, and was published by James Redpath and John O. Wadsworth, the latter of whom wrote the young author that she had truly marked the secret of English verse.

You Kissed Me!
You kissed me! My head
Dropped low on your breast
With a feeling of shelter
And infinite rest
With the holy emotion
My tongue dared not speak
He fled up in a flame
From my heart to my cheek.
You arms he laid on me;
Oh! your arms were so bold!
Heart beat as in heart
In their passionate fold.
Your glances seemed drawing
My soul through my eyes,
As the sun draws the mist
From the sea to the skies.
Your lips elude to mine
Thill I played in my bliss
They might never undep
From that rapturous kiss.

You Kissed Me!
You kissed me! My heart
And my breath and my will
In delicious joy
For a moment stood still.
Life had for me then
No temptations, no charms,
No visions of happiness
Outside of your arms.
And were I this instant
An angel possessed
Of the peace and the joy
That are given the blest,
I would fling my white robes
Unrepiningly down,
I would tear from my forehead
Its beautiful crown,
To settle once more
In that haven of rest -
Your lips upon mine,
My head on your breast!

You Kissed Me!
You kissed me! My soul
Is a sea of bliss
Reeled like a drunken man
Foolish with wine;
And I thought 'twere delicious
To die there, if death
Would but come with my lips
Press me most with your breath;
If I might grow cold
While your arms clasped me round
In their passionate fold.
And these are the questions
I ask day and night:
How my lips have so more
Such exquisite delight?
Would you care if my breast
Were my shelter as then,
And if you were here
Would you kiss me again?

BLOODY RUCTION.

A Five-Cornered Fight at Second and Wall Streets Yesterday.

The War in Cuba wasn't in it when it came to an afternoon "scrap" at Second and Wall streets yesterday.

The belligerents were Ben Gilbert, Posky Henson, Jo. Mays, John Jenkins and a man named Peters.

When the Police here in sight the fighters fled, or at least three of them did, and they are still fleeing.

Henson and Jenkins were arrested, and the latter resembled a fellow who had been editing a sawmill or a rockbreaker that it will take several squares of court to make him preactable.

Nobody seems able to tell just what brand of whisky is responsible for the trouble.

There is a popular belief that eyes cannot be properly fitted outside of an oculist's office, but we are constantly proving the incorrectness of that belief. NEWS NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The Bonanza will pass down tonight from Pomeroy.

The Lizzie Day will be the Pomeroy packet tonight.

The Queen City will pass down at 6 p. m. from Pittsburgh.

The Henry M. Stanley passed up last night for the Kanawha river. She will return Sunday morning.

There is nothing to indicate by the weather or river reports that the river will rise during the next twenty-four hours, but it will fall very rapidly. The reports from above are as follows: Oil City 3.5, fell 4; Pittsburgh 13.8, stationary; Wheeling 22.8, fell 2.7; Parkersburg 29.3, fell 1.5; Hinton 4.4, rose 7; Charleston 8.5, stationary; Catlettsburg 43.6, rose 1; Portsmouth 49.6, rising. At this point the river is falling, the gauge registering 4.4 at 9 o'clock this morning.

A peculiar fact about the Ohio river between this city and Cincinnati is thus related by Captain Cona Miller:

When the river rises the feet at Portsmouth that amount of a rise may be expected at Cincinnati forty-eight hours later. Between Mayville and Cincinnati there is a gap that is somewhat shaped like the crooked neck of a bottle, and when the water is moving through this gap its progress is retarded as water would in the bottle described. This causes the fluctuations of the river, the rises and falls, its stationary condition and a rise again until the head of a Port, mouth rise has reached there. Monday a three foot rise the forty-eight hours previous at Portsmouth was reported, and was felt at Cincinnati on Monday evening and caused the peculiar action of the stream that for several hours previous to 6 p. m. Monday was stationary at 50.3, then rose one-tenth and remained stationary at 50.4 until 11 p. m. when it rose another tenth to 50.5, was stationary until 7 a. m. Tuesday and rose one-tenth again at 8 o'clock.

"I did," said the Presbyterian Minister. "In what form did you put it in?" asked the Methodist Minister.

"In five $20 gold pieces."

"Well, you'll get your $5,000."

"How did you put yours in?"

"I put in a crisp new $100 bill."

"Well, you'll get your $5,000, too."

Just then they saw the Rabbi across the street, and they called him over and asked him in what form he had put his $100 in the casket.

"I put in my check for $300 and took out the change."

Got them very cheap and will sell them at 12c. a yard. Another trophy of good trading.

DANGER SIGNALS

Are Reported to Be Up in the Klondike Regions.

A Serious Customs Dispute With the British Authorities.

Demand Made on the Dominion Government to Close the Frontier to the Klondike.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Danger signals are up in Klondike. It is not starvation this time, but a customs dispute with the British authorities, which may take on a serious phase.

The bill recently passed by the British Columbia board of trade and forwarded to the Dominion government and to the Toronto board of trade are read here with much incredulity and alarm. They recite that the United States customs regulations require a duty on British goods intended for Klondike when they are unloaded at Skagway or Iyke, or else the merchants are bound to pay for a United States treasury agent to escort the goods in bond to the Canadian frontier.

These regulations are denounced as obnoxious, and a demand is made upon the Dominion government to close the Skagway trail, White Pass, Chilkoot Pass and other passes until the United States can be "brought to terms."

The Canadian merchants get no relief. United States officials will not permit Canadian goods to pass over American territory and the United States to its "knees" trouble would surely follow. While the Washington authorities are not yet in a position to make any definite statement, American miners stopped on the border of their promised land could not be expected to let consequences take care of themselves.

FIRST-CLASS RATTLESHIP IOWA.

THE INFANTA.

Instead of the Viareggio, Will Visit America.

MADRID, Jan. 28.—United States Minister Woodford's note announcing the cruise of the Infanta and the reply of the foreign minister here, intimating that a Spanish war vessel will visit America, are both couched in carefully polite and friendly terms. It has been decided to send the first class cruiser Infanta Teresa to America instead of the Viareggio, because the latter's commanding officer, Capt. Concha, in the course of a lecture before the Madrid Geographical society in 1898, censured the United States in a manner that provoked the then American minister, Hannu Viana, to demand an explanation.

The Infanta Maria Teresa, which was in New York harbor at the Grant celebration, is a 7,000-ton displacement. She was built in 1900 at a cost of $200,000 ($300,000). She has a complement of 300 men and 100 tons of coal supply. She is 130 feet long and 55 feet in the beam. She carries two 11 inch guns and four 6 inch guns, eight 3 inch quick firing guns, eight 1.4 inch guns, two Maxims and six torpedo tubes.

Carried Off Her Brakes of Fate. CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—A well-dressed young man attacked Ruby Waters, 12 years old, as she was returning home from the Marquette school Thursday afternoon, and after throwing her in the snow deliberately pulled out one of the side blades of her long hair with his teeth from her head by main strength. No reason is given for the assault other than the desire of the man to possess the blade, which he carried off in his pocket. The girl's scalp was badly lacerated and she is in a serious condition.

A Southern Aler in a Sanitarium. NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Hallie Ermieva, the young southern author and cousin of Princess Alice, formerly of Mrs. Amelia Rives Chanler, is a patient at a sanitarium in Brooklyn. Accused by hostile critics of her recent work, "Smoking Flax," and overtaken by the effort to get out another volume dealing with her problems, she was removed from the Waldorf Wednesday and taken to a sanitarium for treatment.

Widely Whipped. PHAIDR DU CHEN, Vis. Jan. 28.—Major Edward Whaley, aged 61 years, a prominent merchant, died suddenly of heart disease. He was born at Athens, O., and enlisted as a private in Company C, Sixth Regiment, W. Va. in 1862.

Took the Morphine Route. QUINCY, Ill., Jan. 28.—Henry E. Vanduy, former passenger agent at St. Louis for the Big Four, and lately district representative for the Woolson Coffee & Spice Co., committed suicide Thursday at the Tremont hotel by taking morphine.

Another Jump in Wheat. CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—January wheat took another jump today, rising to 61.05. It closed Wednesday night at 61.04. Squeezing of the shorts by Leiter is responsible for the rise.

THE MANUFACTURERS.

Next Session of the National Association Will Be Held in Chicago.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The third and last day of the National Association of Manufacturers convention opened with a discussion of the state taxation of foreign corporations. On the motion of Thos. McLaughlin, of Ohio, it was decided that the subject be referred to a committee of five to be appointed by the president, and who should put themselves in communication with other associations considering the same subject.

It also resolved on the motion of Mr. McLaughlin that the association deem it of the most importance that a proper exhibit be made of the products of the United States be displayed at the Paris exposition in 1900 and that congress make suitable appropriation for the same.

The bill recently passed by Acting Commissioner of Patents Greeley, and now before congress, was endorsed. The convention voted to hold its next meeting in Cincinnati. A motion to change the date to the annual meeting to the month of February was referred to the executive committee, as it was an unfinished business. Rudolph H. Smith, of Chicago, was named as the special commissioner by the manufacturers' association to make investigation of the patent situation in the United States, and reported that the system was a success.

The third annual banquet of the association took place at the Waldorf, Astoria hotel. It was one of the largest and most elaborate affairs of the kind ever given in this city. One thousand guests were seated at the tables when President McKinley, with his wife, and the president of the hotel, the band playing "Hail to the Chief."

The wildest enthusiasm prevailed when President McKinley was introduced. Men stood in their seats; women in the boxes waved their handkerchiefs. The cheering and clapping of hands were redoubled when a request for a speech was made. President McKinley spoke slowly and was plainly heard in every portion of the hall. He spoke for about ten minutes, and was received with laughter, which broadened into a perfect roar when he spoke of the extension of business instead of notes.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The Senate Committee Authorizes a Favorable Report.

Upon the Bill for Free Homesteads on Abandoned Reservations.

President Data Leading a Quiet Life in Washington—Naval Appropriation Bill—Provisions for a Powder Factory.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The senate committee on Indian affairs Thursday authorized a favorable report upon Senator Pettigrew's bill for free homesteads on abandoned reservations.

The committee also reported on a bill for the Indian appropriation bill. The Pettigrew bill has passed the senate twice as an independent measure but has failed to secure consideration in the house. The opinion is entertained in the senate committee that the only way to secure its enactment into a law is to make it a part of an appropriation bill.

SPANISH TROOPS.

Surprise an Insurgent Camp Near Tapaste.

Brig. Gen. Nestor Aranguren and Four Privates Killed.

Capt. Huber, of the Spanish Marine, Calls on the Acting Captain General—Hispanic Arrive at Manzanillo—These are the latest news.

HAVANA, Jan. 28.—At noon Thursday Lieut. Col. Benedict, with the Spanish Reina battalion, surprised near Tapaste, this province, the camp of the insurgent brigadier, Nestor Aranguren, killing Aranguren and four privates, capturing five of the insurgents and wounding others, who made their escape. The body of Brig. Gen. Aranguren was brought by train to Havana Thursday afternoon and delivered to the military authorities. After identification it was sent to the morgue.

Lieut. Col. Benedict was evidently about 24 years of age, of fair complexion, with blonde hair and a small mustache, which shows two bullet wounds on the head and one in the right leg, is dressed in cavalry uniform, wearing woollen socks and yellow shoes and gaiters comparatively new. It is said that the gaiters and vest once belonged to Lieut. Col. Juan Ruiz, the aide-camp of Capt. Gen. Blanco, who, having gone to the front, was killed by Aranguren's camp.

According to the Spanish authorities, the capture of Aranguren was a surprise. He was on a visit to a young woman on the Pita farm between Campo Florida and Tapaste. He was wounded and tried to escape by short-cut.

Among the prisoners is the father of the young woman. He was the dynamite of Aranguren's land.

Capt. Nigabot, of the United States Marine Corps, accompanied by Consul General, Lieut. Col. Benedict, and Lieut. Col. Blanco, paid a visit Thursday to Gen. Farnes, the acting captain-general, who received them courteously and cordially. They expressed themselves as well satisfied with the interview. Friday morning at 10 o'clock Gen. Farnes accompanied by Consul General, Lieut. Col. Benedict, and Lieut. Col. Blanco, paid a visit to the Pita farm.
